TOT PAINFULLY BURNED IN PLAY

Two Year Old Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bronstein, of West High Street, Gets Box of Matches and soon Ignites her Clothing.

While her mother was busily engaged at household duties little two-year-old Anna Bronstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Bronstein, of West High street, was slowly burning and only saved from fatal injuries when her screams attracted the mother who hastened up-stairs to the child's side and succeeded in extinguishing the flames.

After the noon meal on Monday Mrs. Bronstein took the tot up to one of the bed rooms and after undressing her put her in the little crib where she usually took an afternoon nap of several hours. Returning to the first floor of the house the mother busied herself for quite a while before she heard the piercing screams of the little girl.

She ran up to the second floor and there saw the child standing before a bureau, her clothes in flames, both hands raised high in the air and a charred match telling the story. Mrs. Bronstein, forgetting her own danger, grasped the baby in her arms wrapping the clothing tightly about the little one's body and succeeding in putting out the fire, but not before the child's legs had been terribly burned. The mother escaped injury by some remarkable chance.

The child had not only crawled out of the crib but had pushed a chair to the bureau and, crawling up on it, secured a box of safety matches which she opened and lighted the match that caused all the trouble.

Mrs. Bronstein is a firm believer in home remedies in cases like this and no physician was summoned. Instead she simply dressed the burned limbs of her child with coal oil and soda and today reports that the tot is getting along nicely and resting as comfortably as can be expected after receiving the severe burns caused by the flames.

RELIGIOUS REVIVAL

Spiritual Uplift Work Spreading Throughout Cumberland Valley.

A great wave of old-time religion is spreading through the Cumberland Valley. A large number of Carlisle people are advocating an effort to invite Dr. Biederwolf, who has recently completed a notable campaign in Chambersburg, to go there following the end of the revival he will conduct in Waynesboro, commencing in January. This, despite the fact that Carlisle's spirituality received an impetus less than a year ago at the hands of Evangelist Nicholson.

Newville will be stirred by Evangelist Stough also in January, and the people of Shippensburg have just completed a week of prayer and meditation with a view to a revival in the same period. Many other evangelists are engaged or soon will be in spiritual uplift efforts in many of the smaller towns and villages.

DISAPPOINTED

Harrisburg Academy Wanted to Play with Gettysburg Scrubs.

The Harrisburg Patriot says: "The Gettysburg Scrubs who had arranged to play Saturday's game with the Harrisburg Academy team on the Academy field this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, cancelled for a second time last night, the college authorities declaring that because several of the players had broken training on a recent trip, no more games would be played during the present season. An attempt was made by the Academy players to arrange to play at Gettysburg but this was declared impossible and the game was abandoned. The Academy players are bitterly disappointed as they had worked hard for this game, desiring to close the season with a victory."

FIND RICH VEIN OF COPPER ORE

Remarkable Find of Fine Copper Made at Charmian. Far Better than Anything to Date. Will Mean Much to Company.

A vein of native copper four feet thick just ten feet under the surface of the earth, producing about 35 per cent. copper to the ton, has been located on the Charmian mining property of the United Mining, Milling and Copper Smelting Company.

For the past months, Henry Johnson, of Sheffield, England, a metallurgist, has been at the Charmian mines superintending the work of overhauling the smelter, located there. In the meantime he has been prospecting, primarily to locate a gold vein, which exists on that property, and in his search discovered this copper vein.

The ore is the richest ever found on this property, and the opened shaft which has been worked by the Eagle Mining Company for a short time, does not produce copper a third as rich as this vein.

INTERESTING TALK

Dr. Sieling, of York, Tells Interesting Stories in Brua Chapel.

Dr. J. H. Sieling, of York, delivered an address in Brua Chapel Monday evening, under the caption of "Historical Gems." The scenes and subjects of his lecture were taken from the early colonial history lying within a radius of six miles of Brickerville, Lancaster county.

Dr. Sieling is himself responsible for the unearthing of the historical gems and folk lore that abound in this community. His researches date from the time he was a practitioner in Brickerville about thirty years ago. One of his principal discoveries was the history of Baron Steigel, the founder of Manheim, Lancaster county, whose name and remarkable doings had long since been forgotten by those who came after him. This and the peculiar religious sects and quaint doings of the sturdy people who once inhabited that fertile section of Lancaster county, are all familiar in a historical way through the efforts of Dr. Sieling.

Judge Keedy, of Hagerstown, on Monday imposed a fine of $50 on the proprietors of the Blue Mountain House, who pleaded guilty to permitting minors to drink on the premises. Ochs, proprietor of a Hagerstown cafe, against whom the recent grand jury found several indictments for selling liquor to minors. Sentence was reserved in these cases, but Judge Keedy roundly scored the "locker" system at the Country Club.

MISS WILSON WEDS F. B. SAYRE

The Ceremony Took Place in the White House.

DECORATIONS WERE BEAUTIFUL

The Guests Were Mostly Relatives or Friends of the Young Couple or Their Families—Gifts Valued at Over $150,000.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson, second daughter of President and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Francis Bowes Sayre, of New York, formerly of Bethlehem, Pa., were married in the White House this afternoon.

The officiating clergyman was Rev. Sylvester W. Beach, of Princeton, as assisted by Rev. John N. Sayre, a brother of the bridegroom.

As a social event the wedding was only eclipsed by the inauguration of President Wilson last March. The avenues surrounding the White House were packed with people who sought to get a glimpse of the guests as they arrived in automobiles.

The ceremony took place in the east room, which was profusely decorated with palms, ferns and cut flowers. The Marine Band furnished the music.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March the wedding procession descended the stairway, led by the four ushers, Benjamin B. Burton, of New York; Dr. Sevel Clark, of Salem, Mass.; Dr. Gilbert Horax, of Montclair, N. J.; and Charles E. Hughes, of New York, all personal friends of the bridegroom. Next came Miss Margaret Wilson, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, of Washington; Miss Mary G. White, of Baltimore; Miss Adeline Mitchell Scott, of Princeton; and Miss Marjorie Brown, of Atlanta. The bride, leaning on the arm of her father, came last in line.

The procession proceeded to the raised dais under the great east window, where the bridegroom, Mr. Sayre; his best man, Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell, of Labrador, and the officiating clergyman, Rev. Beach and Rev. Sayre, awaited their coming. The ceremony followed strictly the ritual of the Presbyterian church.

Immediately after the ceremony, with the Marine Band discoursing music, the happy pair received the congratulations of their relatives and friends who were present. A wedding dinner was served to the guests in the dining room.

The wedding proved to be a more elaborate affair than President Wilson and Mrs. Wilson anticipated. The army and navy officers who attended were in full uniform, and the diplomatic corps set off the occasion in their full court dress of gold braid. The space for the wedding party was encircled with satin rope, and the 400 or more guests were grouped about all sides. There were no seats. The Marine Band was stationed at one side of the room and were nearly hidden by the huge bowers of palms and ferns.

The invited guests, with the exception of the cabinet, the diplomatic corps and the naval and army aides, were all relatives and personal friends of the happy couple or their families. The aides were Colonel William W. Harts, U. S. A., chief aide to President Wilson; Lieutenant Commander Needham L. Jones, U. S. N., naval aide to the president and the secretary of the navy; Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N.; Lieutenant Richard S. Galloway, U. S. N.; Lieutenant P. A. Todd, U. S. N.; Lieutenant John J. London, U. S. N.; Lieutenant Harold F. Wirgman, U. S. M. C.; Lieutenant H. B. Claggett, U. S. A.; Lieutenant Charles K. Rockwell, U. S. A.; Lieutenant Beverly C. Dunn, U. S. A.; Lieutenant Joseph C. McHaffey, U. S. A.; Lieutenant Joseph P. Aieshire, U. S. A., and Lieutenant James A. Dorst, U. S. A. The aides were in attendance on the diplomatic corps and official guests generally.

No guest list was permitted to be made public at the White House. The east room during the ceremony was not overcrowded.

The wedding presents, probably 500 or more, were magnificent, and are valued at upwards of $150,000. They consisted of jewels, gold and silverware, fine cut glass, rugs and furniture, from a beautiful inlaid tea table to a massive mahogany dining room suit, the gift of President and Mrs. Wilson.

The plans for the wedding trip have not been announced.

The bride's gown was in accord with the season's fashion, but not of the ultra type. It is of satin, with a slight cream tinge, and handsomely embroidered. Free use of rare old lace adds to its beauty. The customary tulle veil was worn and the orange blossoms came from the Wilson home in Columbia, S. C.

The gown of Miss Margaret Wilson, sister and maid of honor, is of palest pink chamoisee, almost white, with a quantity draped sash. This starts near the left shoulder, crosses the bodice, wraps the waist and descends the right side of the skirt, being knotted up on the right hip.

The four bridesmaids, Eleanor Wilson, Mary White, Marjorie Brown and Adeline M. Scott, wore pink in chromatic shaded effect. That is, the first one of the procession was the deepest, the next one lighter, and so on, until the cream-white gown.

bride, with her yellow hair, appeared at the end of the wedding procession. A pretty home is awaiting the White House bride. It is the residence of Professor McElfresh, in Williamstown, Mass., who is now absent on a year's vacation abroad. It is in the prettiest part of the college quarter, a mile distant from the home of President H. J. Garfield, to whom the bridegroom will act as secretary.

The house is of frame, two stories high, and has a wide veranda. The house is painted white, with green blinds, and has a lawn and flower and vegetable gardens. The great volume of wedding gifts indicates the impossibility of their use by the young couple.

TO PROBE NAVY'S DEAL IN CHEAP BEEF

Gets Meat From Australia at Low Figures.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Another federal investigation into the high cost of living, promising criminal prosecutions if Attorney General McInerney can find an alleged cold storage conspiracy, got under way and a congressional investigation of a different phase of the cost of living problem was threatened.

While special agents of the department of justice are sifting charges that eggs, poultry and dairy products are being held up in cold storage to maintain high prices and even to force their higher, Representative Britten, of Illinois, is preparing to ask for a congressional investigation into the prices of meat.

The proposal for a meat investigation was prompted by an announcement that the navy had bought nearly 200,000 pounds of Australian fresh beef at a half cent a pound lower than the best prices of American packers, and 150,000 pounds of canned corned beef from the Australian packers at eight cents a pound cheaper than the lowest price in the United States.

The price paid was 15.95 cents a pound for the fresh beef and 15.37 cents for the corned product.

Announcing his intention to ask for a congressional investigation of the navy's beef contract, Congressman Britten asserted that he wanted to develop why the public could not benefit by the advantage of buying from Australia if the navy could do so.

Representative McKellar, of Tennessee, has pending in the house a bill to prohibit interstate transportation of any food products kept in cold storage more than ninety days. He contends that its enactment into law would go far toward solving the cold storage question.

Agents of the department of justice look up their work in all the principal cities. They will report particularly on eggs and dairy products and will attempt to make an estimate of the quantities in cold storage and how long they have been there.

Conviction of Atlantic City Boss Sustained by Higher Court.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 25.—The court of errors and appeals affirmed the conviction of Louis Kuehnle, for years the republican leader of Atlantic City, who was found guilty of being "unlawfully and corruptly interested" in the awarding of a contract for a costly water main while a member of the Atlantic City board of water commissioners.

The lower court sentenced Kuehnle to one year in prison and a fine of $500.

FEAR UPRISING IN MEXICO CITY

Germans and Austrians Prepare For Mob Violence.

THE AMERICANS ARE INERT

Treasury Is Empty and Huerta Is Hard Pressed to Keep Going—Big Battle Opens South of Juarez.

Mexico City, Mex., Nov. 25.—Evidence of the fear of serious trouble felt by the foreign diplomats in the capital is afforded by the action taken by two ministers to safeguard their nationals here.

The Austrian legation sent out a circular urging all Austrians to co-operate with the German and other European colonies in organizing for defense. In this circular it is stated that the troops in the city are so few, and the likelihood of uprisings against foreign residents so likely, that the legation deems it wise to adopt defense measures.

Accompanying the circular was another, signed by the Germans, detailing the plan of organization. Men who served in the German army have been put in command and will direct all affairs. The Germans have a fair supply of rifles and ammunition and two machine guns.

The Americans have made no systematic attempt to protect themselves, the disposition of the majority appearing to be to trust to Provisional President Huerta and his forces or to luck.

Resigned, apparently, to conditions making it necessary to carry on a dietary campaign against his enemies, Huerta and his official dependents appear serene, convinced that the United States will not take more drastic measures toward the Mexican government than those already initiated.

It had been rumored that congress would not continue to meet; that it would be automatically dissolved, and that Huerta was about to quit office. All these reports have been disproved by congress launching itself into what promises to be a prolonged session. It is expected that it will take up the ratification or nullification of the presidential elections. It is understood that these will be annulled, and that Huerta meanwhile will remain at the head of affairs.

According to his intimates, no one realizes more fully than Huerta the desperate straits of his government. But he has reiterated his intention of pounding away at his enemies until he or they have won. At the National Palace the idea of intervention is being scoffed at, and the suggestion of a blockade is received with skepticism. Huerta is credited with having said that, while the ports might be easily taken, it would be impossible for invaders to get so far as the capital.

How large Huerta's army is at the present time is not known, but the latest official report placed the number at 50,000. The campaign of drafting into service individuals of all stations has added probably 30,000, but it is certain that no such number as this is under arms, as the government has had difficulty for some time past in obtaining rifles.

The army levy has created something of a panic among the men and women of the lower classes, since even women are being forced into service as "soldaderas."

The financial situation is the most serious that Huerta is facing. The fact that the national treasury is practically empty is not hidden from even the most ignorant peon in the city, and the measures recently adopted to obtain funds have been such as will remove any doubt remaining.

REBELS MEET DEFEAT

Mexican Artillery Driving Villa's Men Back to Juarez.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 25.—The federal artillery is driving General Francisco Villa's forces back into the town of Juarez.

A desperate battle has raged for an hour opposite Elgen, Tex. Fighting started ten miles south of Juarez. West of Juarez another federal force is moving on Juarez.

All available rebel cavalry in Juarez is being sent to the southeast to reinforce the rebels there. Rebel infantry is being sent to the west toward the Flores Ranch, where a large force of federals is reported to be moving on.

The telephone girl at Ysleta, Tex., a border town a few miles east of El Paso, stated that a fierce battle was in progress between Villa's forces and federals at that point, and that the rebels were retreating toward Juarez rapidly.

Hold Three Accused Troopers.

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 25.—Three troopers of the Ninth United States Cavalry were held in $2000 bail on the charge of stealing government supplies and smuggling them to the Mexican rebels. Two Mexican gun runners were also held.

Thaw Must Pay Own Expenses.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 25.—Harry K. Thaw's sojourn in New Hampshire, while he is fighting the attempts of New York state to obtain his return to Maitawana, will be at his own expense. That was the order entered by Judge Aldrich in the federal court records of the case, in which Thaw appears as petitioner for a writ of habeas corpus.

BOOTH BROTHERS ARE RECONCILED

Religious Leaders Meet After Eighteen Years.

New York, Nov. 25.—Two brothers, leaders of great religious organizations, who had not met in eighteen years, greeted each other in this city and extended the hand of fellowship and brotherly affection.

They were General Bramwell Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, and General Callington Booth, president of the Volunteers of America, which he founded following the split in the parent body in 1896. The meeting took place at the Alpha Delta Phi club, in West Forty-fourth street, where the generals were the guests of Rev. Aiden L. Bennett at luncheon.

When the word was passed among the many Salvationists gathered at the army headquarters to do honor to General Bramwell Booth that the brothers had come together after many years, many "Hallelujahs!" were quietly but fervently spoken.

Neither of the generals would talk about their reunion. Both, however, agreed to the publication of a brief statement, setting forth the place of the meeting, in which they said: "After luncheon there was a private meeting between the two brothers. The interview was a friendly and brotherly one, and was, of course, entirely concerned with personal and family matters."

MINISTER A BIGAMIST

Clergyman Confesses to Being Married to Three Women.

Chapinburg, Pa., Nov. 25.—Just as he was stepping into a church at Green Springs, Cumberland county, Rev. Thomas J. Hilton, a Methodist clergyman, of Plattsburg, Mo., was arrested by Sheriff George Walker, of Franklin county, on a charge of bigamy.

After Hilton was on his way to jail he remarked, the police say, that "bigamy" might as well be the name of his offense, for he had three wives, rather than two.

One he married in North Carolina, one in Nebraska and one in Plattsburg, but he felt that he was all right, because a lawyer in Chicago had guaranteed him a divorce from the second wife, and since he did not know where the first one was, he thought he was freed of her, he is alleged to have said.

Plans Dash to South Pole.

London, Nov. 25.—Undeterred by the tragic end of the Scott expedition, Sir Ernest Shackleton, famous Antarctic explorer, who had reached farthest south before Captain Amundsen, announced that he is planning another South Polar dash to take place within two years. It is believed he will take the route taken by Captain Scott.

COMING SHOW

ave the Old Thriller for Coming Melo-drama.

The sensational rural comedy drama, "Joshua Simpkins", will be produced at Walter's Theatre on Friday November 28. The play contains an interesting and intelligible plot, but it is not allowed to interfere with the fun, which is said to be in abundance. During the run of the piece some startling scenes and situations are seen, the principal of which is said to be the saw-mill, in the third act, shown in complete operation, cutting up real timber. The saw used is the genuine article, the same as usually seen in large country sawmills. An excellent band and fine orchestra accompany this attraction. The band will parade at noon, when some good music may be looked for, all being dressed as farmers.—advertisement

SAYS EXPENSES KILL R. R. PROFITS

Officials Claim Outlay Grows While Income Drops.

WANT TO ADVANCE RATES

Railroad Presidents Declare Earnings Are Not Commensurate With Increased Cost of Operation.

Washington, Nov. 25.—That railroad earnings are not commensurate with the increased cost of operation, higher taxes and wages and additions to the equipment necessary to meet commercial demands of the country, was submitted to the Interstate Commerce commission by representatives of the railroads arguing for a general increase of 5 per cent in freight rates.

The claim filed by railroads operating in the territory east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers was upheld in a preliminary outline of the railroad situation by Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, representing for the occasion the eastern roads, and Frederick A. Delano, president of the Wabash railroad, on behalf of the Central Traffic association.

Statistics tending to show the curtailment of earnings as compared to increased costs were submitted by an accounting committee composed of C. M. Bunting, comptroller of the Pennsylvania railroad; W. C. Wishart, statistician of the New York Central lines; W. H. Williams, third vice president of the Delaware & Hudson company; C. P. Shriver, second vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

C. M. Bunting, of the Pennsylvania system, testified that the return on property investment of that system had shown a declining tendency since 1903 and a steady decline since 1910.

"Between the years 1910 and 1913," said he, "there was an increase of $207,186,919 in the property investment and a decrease in the net operating income of $11,485,511. In other words, the Pennsylvania railroad system was $11,485,511 short of even receiving one cent additional return on its enlarged investment. The percentage of return on property investment in 1903 was 7.49 per cent, while in 1913 it had fallen to 5.48 per cent.

"The amount of wages paid," continued Mr. Bunting, "has increased about $26,000,000 during the period of 1910 to 1913; approximately $15,000,000. In addition large expenditures had to be made for more substantial and heavier equipment, higher standard of roadbed and more modern interlocking towers have increased $4,079,779 between 1910 and 1913."

W. C. Wishart, of the New York Central, said that system, since June 30, 1910, had added $159,000,000 to the property which it devotes to public use.

"The whole system," he added, "had in the year just closed just $3,384,370 less net corporate income than in 1910."

Protests against the proposed increases in rates were formally filed in behalf of the Pittsburgh Coal company and the New Pittsburgh Coal company, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Columbus O. Rush C. Butler, representing the Freight Traffic association of the Chicago Association of Commerce, also entered an appearance.

The cities of Bonn and Frankfurt, in Germany, are trying a novel plan for housing their teachers. They are selling to their teachers land at a low price and accepting a mortgage on it at low interest.

In Seville, the chief seaport of southern Spain, flour costs nearly $10 a barrel at retail in small quantities, but oranges are less than a cent apiece. Ham averages about 40 cents a pound and sugar 9 cents.

So that it will not be in darkness in event of damage below decks a steamship built recently in England was provided with a second lighting plant mounted on the bridge deck and operated by a gasoline engine.

There were 60,000 patents applied for in America last year. Only 35,000 patents were granted. Of these not more than 500 will get to the manufacturing stage and be a source of income to the inventors.

Since Germany obtained the island of Helgoland from Great Britain twenty years ago the government has been surrounding it with a wall of concrete until now it is completely protected against the inroads of the sea.

It is reported from London that the fashionable young men of that center of masculine fashion are trying to grow beards because brown derbies are the correct thing, and it is not regarded as entirely proper to wear a brown derby with a smooth face.

There are now twenty-six days in the year recognized as legitimate occasions for holidays in most cities of England. These are in addition to the weekly half holidays observed on Wednesdays or Saturdays. An effort is being made to lessen the number of holidays and to bring those retained into more systematic order.

Beautiful Hair---a Clean, Cool Scalp

If your hair is anything short of perfect: if it is too dry, brittle, dull, thin, or if the scalp itches, immediately begin the use of Parisian Sage. The first application removes dandruff, cools and invigorates the scalp and increases the beauty of the hair.

Parisian Sage, a scientific preparation, supplies hair needs. It contains the exact elements needed to make the hair soft, wavy and glossy, and to make it grow—it is delicately perfumed—not sticky or greasy.

Apply Parisian Sage and the effect is immediate. One application stops the head from itching and freshens up the hair. Use it daily for a week and you will be surprised and delighted. Parisian Sage is one of the quickest acting hair tonics known.

Rheuma is Free From Narcotics

Relieves Rheumatism by Cleansing the Whole System of all Impurities.

Do not try to relieve Rheumatism by dosing the system with dangerous drugs. RHEUMA is free from all opiates and narcotics and cleanses the system in a natural but scientific manner. The dangerous "waste" is eradicated from the kidneys, bowels, liver and skin. RHEUMA costs only 50 cents of People's Drug Store.

"I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism for ten years. After two days' use of RHEUMA I laid down my crutches and have since given them away. I am a well man."—J. R. Crocker, 614 Sumter St., Columbia, S. C.
